

international wildlife museum scavenger hunt

|   |  |
|---|--|
| An animal that has six legs                       |  |
| An animal's name that begins with W               |  |
| An animal that could fit in the palm of your hand |  |
| An animal that was extinct before you were born   |  |
| An animal that is in danger of becoming extinct   |  |
| A museum artifact from another country            |  |
| An animal skeleton                                |  |
| A sign that says "Do Not Touch"                   |  |
| A sign that says "Touch Gently"                   |  |
| An animal with webbed feet                        |  |
| An animal that lives it's whole life in the water |  |
| A herbivore (animal that doesn't eat meat)        |  |
| A burrowing animal                                |  |
| An animal that lives in a tree                    |  |
| An animal from the North Pole                     |  |
| An animal from the South Pole                     |  |
| An animal that you might find in your yard        |  |
| A plaque honoring someone                         |  |
| A display of an animal taking care of its' babies |  |
| A hibernating animal                              |  |
| A reptile   |  |
| An animal from Africa                             |  |
| An amphibian                                      |  |
| An animal with spots                              |  |
| A pine tree                                       |  |